whereas it has been alleged in the public papers, and quasi-official documents, well authenticated, that before the so-called "fisheries award commission" made in Halifax in November, 1877, false, fraudulent, simulated, and altered official statistics and documents, evidence and testimony were offered and introduced before the said commissioners, in order to procure said unjust and illegal award, all of which false and fraudulent statistics and evidence were well known to and were procured designedly and with corrupt intent by the officials and agents of the British Government, and which said false and fraudulent statistics and evidence and said illegal award were subsequently brought before the House of Representatives of the United States, and were the foundation for the act of Congress appropriating $5,500,000 to pay said illegal, unjust, and fraudulently obtained award, in violation of the integrity of the proceedings of this House, and by means of which a great public national scandal has been created; and whereas this state of facts was long since brought to the notice of Monsieur Delfosse, the joint commissioner, and of Mr. Galt, the British commissioner, and of the British Government in England, who have each and all declined to take any steps toward investigating this extraordinary state of facts; and whereas in relation to this matter a high-minded official and distinguished statesman in England used this remarkable language, "Money is dust in the scale as compared with honest dealing in the relations of the two countries;" and whereas all the false and fraudulent statistics and evidence, and the award and action of Congress will be again involved in 1883, when said treaty must be terminated and some new convention be established or the payment of nearly $500,000 a year be taken as res adjudicata, as fixed damages, under said treaty if the same is not ended; and whereas it is believed and alleged that bribery has been used, that false statements and evidence have been corruptly purchased by the British authorities, and the promoters of a great national wrong, although known, have been rewarded by the same government for their infamous crime; and whereas it is also alleged and believed that there are men high in position in England who stand ready and have already taken steps to co-operate with statesmen of this country, as soon as a public inquiry is set on foot here, to take the necessary steps to right this momentous wrong: therefore, that a special committee, to consist of —— of this House, be appointed, to whom this communication to the House shall be referred, with the accompanying letters, and that the same be printed in the Record; and that said committee have authority to sit at any time, and to send for persons and papers and administer oaths, and to employ a clerk and stenographer, and may proceed to any other place to prosecute said investigation if deemed advisable by said committee at any time. And the expenses of said committee and investigation shall be paid out of the contingent fund of the House upon the certificate of the chairman of said committee. Objected to 443
